• REPORTING PROHIBITED ACTIVITIES (RPA)

Key Points

Applies to all Regular Army, Army National Guard and U.S. Army Reserve. Participation in extremist and criminal gang activities is inconsistent with the responsibilities and obligations of military service to include the oaths of office and oaths of enlistment. Such activities will damage the Nation's trust and confidence in the Army as an institution and a professional fighting force which leads to destabilized morale and combat readiness.

Reporting Prohibited Activity Allegations

When reporting a Prohibited Activity allegation, all Appropriate Army Authorities (AAAs), who receive an allegation of a Soldier engaging in a prohibited activity (either independently or in violation of any other law, regulation, procedure, or policy) will notify the subject's commander or other authority (when appropriate) and an appropriate Army IG of receiving the prohibited activity allegation. The appropriate Army IG will forward this information through appropriate Army IG channels.

For alleged offenders, reports should contain only the grade/rank, unit, occupational or specialty code, gender, age, and Military Service, how the offender is alleged to have violated DoD Instruction 1325.06 (encl 3, para 8-10) or other relevant Army policy (if applicable), and the date and location of the alleged prohibited conduct (if known). For victims, if known, reports should contain only the age, gender, and (as applicable) Military Service or other military affiliation, grade/rank, occupational or specialty code, and unit. Submit to your local IG office.

Commander Information Regarding Prohibited Activities.

A military commander or other decision authority will notify an appropriate Army IG of a final decision to take corrective action, including court martial, other criminal prosecution, nonjudicial punishment under Article 15 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), administrative action (involuntary discharge), administrative action (denial of continuation or re-enlistment), administrative action (insider threat mitigation), administrative action (counseling), or no action taken against a Soldier with one or more substantiated allegations of engaging in a prohibited activity. If no action was taken despite a finding that an allegation was substantiated, the transmission should note and explain the reasons why no action was warranted. The appropriate Army IG will forward the information through appropriate Army IG channels.
