

Command Sergeant Major Dale A. Shetler

38th Infantry Division Command Sergeant Major

Command Sergeant Major Dale A. Shetler was selected as 38th Infantry Division Command Sergeant Major effective January of 2018. As the Division Command Sergeant Major, he is responsible for providing tactical and technical guidance to the Division Commander while also carrying out policies and setting standards for performance, training, and conduct of personnel. As the Division Command Sergeant Major, he is the primary mentor for the NCOs of the Division.

Command Sergeant Major Shetler began his career in the United States Army in 1985. In his 33 year career, he has served in the Regular Army, Army Reserve, and Army National Guard. He graduated from the United States Army Sergeant Major Academy in 2006 and the Nominative Leader's Course in 2017. He deployed to Baghdad, Iraq in 2006-2007 with the 38th Division Support Command (DISCOM) as the NCOIC of the Camp Victory Mayor Cell.

Command Sergeant Major Shetler has held numerous positions throughout his career which include: Multichannel Radio Operator, Company C, 123rd Signal Battalion; Tactical Radio Team Chief, HHB, 4/333 Field Artillery; Communications Chief, Company A, 4/333 Field Artillery; Senior Maintenance Supervisor, Company A (Supply), 113th Forward Support Battalion; Battalion Maintenance Liaison, HHD, 113th Forward Support Battalion; First Sergeant, Company A (Supply), 738th Forward Support Battalion; First Sergeant, Company B (-), 638th Aviation Support Battalion; Command Sergeant Major, 138th Signal Battalion; Command Sergeant Major, 190th Transportation Battalion; Command Sergeant Major, 38th Sustainment Brigade; NCOIC Agri-Business Development Team 6-19; Command Sergeant Major, 81st Troop Command.